THROUGH CROW'S NEST

The Return of D Troop Through Crow's Nest Pass to Fort McLeod.

An Account of the Trip—First of Its Kind on Record—Glorious Scenery.

"D" Troop N.W.M.P. under the command of Major Steele, which went into the mountains over a year ago to quell a disturbance among the Kootenay Indians, have now returned to Fort McLeod, N.W.T., from whence they came. This expedition was the first of the kind that has ever penetrated into the Rockies and a short account of the trip through the Crow's Nest Pass, when returning to the Territories may possibly be interesting.

The day for pulling out from the camp on Wild Horse Creek was fixed for the 7th, and on the 6th the camp was made lively by the arrival of Mr. Robt. Galbraith with his two pack trains, which together with the police pack train were to form the transport for the troop through the mountains. The packers were busy all that day making up the packs and proportioning them to the different animals, and on the following morning at 3 o'clock a. m. reveille sounded, tents were struck and converted into packs, boot and saddle sounded, and the march began. Owing to the pack trains, and the rocky character of the trail, the day's march was all done in the morning. Reveille at 4 a.m., just as the first streak of dawn appeard, and then travel during the cool of the morning; as when the sun once got up over the mountains, the heat was intense. The first day's camp was at Fish Lakes, and on the second day Bull river was crossed. This for grandeur of scenery is very hard to beat, the river dashing and waving between solid slabs of rock, and making in one place a natural bridge, by the piling up of the logs and trees blown into the river higher up. Immediately below this it forms itself into a waterfall, one mass of white foam, whose roar can be heard at an enormous distance. The sun was very strong, and men and beasts were glad when camped on the banks of the Kootenay river for the night. The following day the camp was at Sand Creek, when at least half the troop hurried out to fish, and some splendid strings of salmon trout were caught. The deer tracks at this place were very plentiful, pathways having been worn through the dense brush by them when going to water, and tracks only a few hours old were seen in all directions. The following morning, on rising in the dark, as reveille rang out at 4 a. m., everything was found uncomfortably wet, saddles, horses, etc., it having rained during the night, and although it had now stopped, the wet trees and brush were sufficient to wet a man through, and as it is cold in the early morning, it is anything but a pleasant sensation. The camp was one mile from the river, and before arriving there the dampness of the morning had changed to intense heat, so that every one was glad to seek the shade and lay down for the rest of the day. The next morning the Elk river was crossed, which forms another striking piece of scenery, the river rushing over slabs of rock, in places like so many enormous stairs, at the bottom of a canon, whose sides are as straight as a wall. A very steep ascent up the mountain side with windings and twistings like a corkscrew, brings you to the bench above, where you travel parallel with the Elk river until you enter the Crow's Nest pass. The trees here change. The principal ones thus far have been pine and tamarac; they now give place to the cedar, and the trail leads through the dense forest that covers the benches at the foot of the mountains, and some of the most beautiful scenery imaginable is here to be seen. The camp for the night was in a clearing formed by a windfall, the trees of which had been burned in a forest fire and then blown down, forming a network of the trunks, very troublesome to locomotion. One of the troop horses got bogged at this place, and had to be hauled out with ropes. The fishing here was also very good, many splendid strings of trout being caught. The following day the pass was entered, the trail still leading through the dense forest which clothes the foot of the mountains, and the trail leading over some very rocky and precipitious places. The wild fruit and flowers at this point are simply marvelous, giving the place almost the appearance of a large garden, and the pleasure of riding through such lovely scenery was unmarred by the usual presence of the voracious mosquito, owing no doubt to the coldness of the nights, and intense heat of the days when the sun appears above the mountains. This absence of mosquitoes and flies, together with that of dust, I need scarcely remark was an appreciated pleasure. The following day the summit was passed, still in many places being rocky and steep. The camp for the night was at Martin's creek, and here a thunderstorm overtook us, the first rain experienced of any account, since the start. During the next day's march the troop had to cross a swinging bridge over a creek, only one man and horse being able to go over at once, but before half the troop were over the bridge collapsed, precipitating the luckless weight who happened to be crossing at the time, into the creek below, the horse getting tangled in the relics of the bridge, but luckily without any serious damage. The rest of the troop and the pack trains had to ford it, when another man and horse got mired in the spongy soil a little lower down. The camp was on the banks of the Old Man's Lake, at the northwest end of the pass. The troop were now virtually out of the mountains, although they still surrounded it on either side, and after a few hours riding arrived at the camp of th "H" troop, men sent from Fort Macleod with wagons to take the place of the pack trains. It was a splendid sight to see the long string of nearly one hundred mounted men, and over a hundred pack animals issuing in single file from the mouth of the pass, and drawn up in the open ground which stretches from the foot of the mountain to the rangling country of the MacLeod district. The packs from Mr. Galbraith's trains were transferred to the wagons, a couple of hours rest taken, and after farewells on either side, when Mr. Galbraith on behalf of the settlers in the Kootenay district, thanked the officers and men of the troop for the manner in which they had performed their duties while among them, and expressed the sorrow of the people in general on account of losing so many friends by the withdrawal of a troop, which both white and red men had learned to respect. The camp was once more broken up, Mr. Galbraith and his now empty pack trains to return from whence he came, and the troop to proceed on their journey and camp for the night at the Crow's Nest detachment, one of the outlying posts of the MacLeod district. This is the first building struck since leaving Kootenay, but during the next day's march several ranches appeared in the distance, and in the evening Pincher creek settlement was reached, and we felt ourselves once more in civilization.

The troop arrived in MacLeod the next evening, and went into camp on the banks of Old Man's river, immediately below Fort MacLeod, and proceeded to take a little well earned rest after their eleven days march, since leaving Wild Horse creek in British Columbia. And thus ended a very pleasant and successful trip, the first of its kind performed by this route. H.B.H.

FROM OTTAWA.

Indian Schools—Cattle Quarantine—Removal of C Battery.

Special to The Times.)

Ottawa, Oct. 10—The application of the Manitoba Government to cross the C. P. R. tracks with the R. R. R. has been referred to the Supreme Court by the Railway Committee of the Privy Council. The point at issue is the constitutionality of the clause in the Dominion Railway Act, which takes from the local legislatures the jurisdiction over railway crossing or connections with the C. P. R.

The United States Government complains that the Dominion cattle quarantine regulations are killing the Canadian trade of the Montana ranches. It is likely the regulations will be revised.

Four Indian industrial schools will shortly be established in British Columbia. One on Vancouver Island, and one at Metlakahtla and Kootenay.

The militia department favors the removal of C Battery to Vancouver, and it is therefore not probable that your barracks will be completed at present. During A. W. Ross's visit here, among other things which he pressed upon the Government, was the propriety of removing the Battery from Victoria, and it has been learned that the subject has since been considered in council.

The Call Libel Suit—A Forger Arrested in the Act.

Special to The Times.]

Winnipeg, Oct. 10—The examination into the Call libel case was postponed yesterday for a week to allow of witnesses for the defence being procured from St. Paul.

A young man, describing himself as C. M. Cole, of Jacobson, Miss., was arrested here last evening on a charge of forgery. During the afternoon he entered the Bank of British North America and deposited to his credit a marked cheque on the First National Bank of Greenville, Miss. The manager immediately wired that bank as to the genuiness of the check and received an answer that it was forged. When arrested Cole had a large number of drafts and cheques on various American banks.

FROM NEW BRUNSWICK.

Heavy Rains—Joggins' Raft Builder Coming to British Columbia.

Special to The Times.]

St. John, N. B., Oct. 10—Heavy rains have caused serious washouts on railways throughout the province and connection between Eastern New Brunswick and New England is entirely cut off. The freshets have done much damage at Woodstock and Grand Falls.

Mr. Robertson, who built the Joggins raft, goes shortly to British Columbia to build two similar rafts, one for San Francisco and one for Chili.

THE SUICIDE.

A Theory Advanced Regarding the Man Drowned.

Stephen D. Moore, who suicided by jumping from the steamer Yosemite last Wednesday night was a fugitive from justice. The Minneapolis Tribune of Sept. 29th contains the following: "Stephen D. Moore and John McElhatton became engaged in a dispute over the payment of money due McElhatton on a mortgage deed. Moore attacked McElhatton with a knife, stabbing him on the face, neck and breast. At the third stab McElhatton fell and Moore attempted to strike the prostrate man with a stone. McElhatton's wounds are severe but not dangerous. After attempting to murder the man Moore fled and was evidently under the impression that he was a murderer. Remorse for the supposed crime preyed on Moore's mind and he attempted to forget his cowardly actions by jumping from the steamer."

THIS DAY'S NEWS.

Collision at Sea—Twenty Lives Lost and Schooner Sunk—A Shooting Scrape.

The Oregon Presbytery—Imprisoned for Life—"Times" Libel Suit.

New York, Oct. 10—The National Line steamer Queen, which arrived to-day collided with the fishing schooner Madeline off the Newfoundland coast last Friday evening during the fog, cutting the schooner in two. Twenty of the schooner's crew were drowned and four saved. The schooner Madeline sailed from Granville, France, and was on her return voyage to Havre after a successful fishing season when she was run down by the Queen. The captain, two mates and the cook of the schooner were saved by the Queen's boats and landed here this morning. The twenty men drowned were all below when the collision occurred and as the schooner sank immediately after being cut in two it was impossible to save them. Captain Healy, master of the Queen, said this afternoon that at the time of the collision, second officer Jackson had charge of the vessel while a light was seen by Jackson off the port bow and he supposed the vessel was at anchor. The Queen was making ten knots per hour. Had Jackson's supposition been correct the Queen would have passed the Madeline in safety. The accident is due to the display of the wrong signal on the Madeline. After the collision the Queen was at once backed to clear the wreckage. Only four persons in all were seen from the deck. Much to the officers' astonishment the passengers on the Queen felt a shock and many rushed on deck. The fourth mate, Taylor, reassured the passengers by telling them the steamer had only dropped anchor.

USUAL SHOOTING SCRAPE.

Pendleton, Oregon, Oct. 10—The news has just been received here that a shooting scrape occurred on Thursday in the mountains, forty miles from here, between Enrich Bowley, sheep herder, and Edmund and Len Campbell, sheep owners. A band of sheep which Bowley was leading became mixed with Campbell's sheep and in separating them a dispute arose. Bowley drew his pistol and emptied it at the Campbells. Two bullets struck Len Campbell but Ed. escaped unhurt. The latter drew his revolver and fired one shot just as Bowley vanished in the bushes. It took effect. Len Campbell has died from his injuries and Bowley is not expected to live.

Dover, Oct. 10.—The light weight championship fight between Jack McAuliffe and Billy Dacey for a $1,000 purse and the Police Gazette diamond belt took place this morning in a barn near here. Eleven fierce and desperate rounds were fought, McAuliffe finally knocking his opponent out. Darcey, evidently, was overmatched.

McAuliffe was seconded by Jack Dempsey and Dooney Harris, while Dacey was looked after by Tommy Barnes. Mike Cleary, the well known sporting man was referee. The winner's weight was 131½ lbs., while Dacey scaled 130.

TEMPERANCE UNION.

W. C. T. Union—Second Day's Proceedings.

WEDNESDAY MORNING SESSION.

Devotional exercises, led for half an hour by Mrs. Scoular, of New Westminster. Business session opened at 10:30 by singing "Come Thou Fount." The meeting was led in prayer by Mrs. Hemlaw, of Maple Ridge. The minutes of Tuesday afternoon and evening were read and adopted. On motion, Mrs. Chase, of Chicago, Mrs. Hampson, Australia, and Miss Williams, of New Westminster, were made members of the Convention. Reports of the New Westminster and Chilliwhack Unions were read and adopted.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The afternoon session of the second day of the Temperance Women's Convention was opened with devotional exercises led by Mrs. Sexsmith, after which the minutes of the morning session were read and approved. A letter of greeting was read from the Ontario W. C. T. U., inviting delegates to be sent from British Columbia to their Convention. The President announced that Miss Mildred Major was representing the Society in the Ontario Convention and on motion it was decided to telegraph to the Ontario Union.

The treasurer's report was called for and given, duly signed by the auditors. On motion it was received. The corresponding secretary's report was next in order; the lady reported much work done during the year and although much more was waiting encouraged the ladies to go forth with renewed efforts to the coming year.

Mr. Teague, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. was here introduced and spoke a few earnest encouraging words to the women. Miss McDonald, of Halifax, was introduced and bid them God speed. Mrs. (Rev.) T. Hall gave the report on evangelistic work. After a lively discussion in which the several important points on this work was brought out and valuable suggestions given to the workers, Rev. Mr. Rogg was introduced and after welcoming the ladies, by request announced the arrangements, as far as possible, of Mr. Moody's services. The report on prison work was read and accepted, and showed that in several places the work had been successfully carried on, the prisoners being cheered and helped by the visits of those in charge. Several had on their release started on better lives. The report of the hospital work was given by Mrs. McNaughton, who stated that during the year the work had been taken up in Kamloops, Vancouver, New Westminster and Victoria. Literature had been circulated; the sick had been comforted and several had signed the pledge before leaving the hospital and some had been led to Christ. The report was adopted. The report of the superintendent of Indian Work by Mrs. Crosby was read and adopted; she reported that one Union and two Bands of Hope had been established. Mrs. Sheppard, superintendent of Juvenile work, reported that there were 10 Bands of Hope or Loyal Legions in the province which numbered 350 children and the work had been carried on by persons who were well fitted for the positions. The report was adopted.

Mrs. Cunningham, organizer for the Mainland, reported three unions established this year in Vancouver, Kamloops and the North Arm. The North Arm reported a successful Union there and no saloon. The Vancouver Union reported that Miss Ackerman had resurrected a sleeping or dead Union in that place and they were determined not to be behind their sisters in laboring for God, Home and Humanity.

The evening session was exceedingly interesting. Good music was furnished by the Methodist choir and able addresses delivered by Dr. Siddell, Archbishop Scriven and Rev. Mr. Rugg. Mr. Siddell said the temperance societies had to fight a foe which had a triple alliance behind its back, viz: money, political power and appetite; but this Union recognizing the power of God, having for her object the protection of her home and the amelioration of the condition of humanity must gain the victory in this moral reform. In speaking of good temperance men he said, give them office and you spoil them as a rule, but he was glad that there were a few exceptions and some in our city, all honor to them. Arch. Scriven started out, taking his audience with him. A courting he went, a-courting a charming young lady, Miss Temperance, who was the daughter of Religion, and he introduced to his friends some of her sisters, her twin, Purity, her younger sisters, Modesty, Charity, Good Temper and Industry. The speech was entertaining and instructive. Mr. Rugg next addressed the audience. He thought that this Society was perhaps more than any other laying their plans for a definite object; he said some objected to women taking hold of this work; but they had taken hold of it because the men had not done so, and was she not accomplishing grand work in visiting the prisons, comforting the suffering in the hospitals, training the young children in temperance principles, and if the W. C. T. U. sometimes got a little in advance of public opinion in asking for prohibition, it was because she was leading the van, not lagging behind, and it is for the rest to follow. He said that while the two principal political parties were discussing the protection of the workers in iron, brass and other industries, the third party were pledged to work for the protection of the boys and help the temperance people. After a good collection the meeting closed.

It was decided to procure a handsome banner for the provincial W. C. T. U. by the next convention. Telegraphic greetings were received from the Ontario Union (Joshua 1-9) and were read in the convention.

A Former Governor's Death.

Sir Anthony Musgrave whose death has occurred in Queensland, Aus., of which place he was appointed Governor in 1883, was a former Governor of British Columbia. He was the last colonial governor before confederation, holding office from 1869 to 1871, at which time the province entered into the Canada and Union. He died in his 60th year. During his life he held many responsible positions in the empire and was always popular with the people. In this province his many old comrades will hear of his death with regret. From 1864 to the time of his appointment as Governor of British Columbia he held the Governorship of Newfoundland. In 1871 he was nominated a Companion of the Order of St. Michael and St. George and was promoted, for his long official services, to a Knight Commandership of that order in 1875. Deceased was a relative of Edward Musgrave, Esq., of Salt Spring Island.

VICTORIA BETRAYED.

The contemplated removal of "C" Battery from this city to Vancouver, as announced in our dispatches, fails to create in our minds that amount of indignant wonderment expressed in this morning's issue of the Colonist. For our part we would not be surprised if the Dominion Government endeavored to secure the removal of the seat of the provincial government as well. Past experience in dealing with the politicians of Victoria has taught them that so long as selfish ends are answered, public affairs may go to the dogs. In order to gratify the spleen of an incubus that is killing the life of the City of Victoria, commercially socially and morally, was not the Hon. McKenzie Bowell permitted to not only injure, but insult, our city when he proposed to remove from here the office of Chinese interpreter? Has not THE TIMES denounced this outrageous action as being the insertion of the thin edge of the wedge in an endeavor to build up another city at the expense of Victoria? Were we assisted in our action by the press of the city? No. At last meeting of parliament appropriations were made for the erection of barracks in this neighborhood, and Colonel Prior, one of our city members, performed his part well regarding that important subject. Was he assisted as he should have been? No. Our other member's interest is elsewhere, and he wouldn't bother the government that was going to make him a peer (?) of the realm. Did the Colonist make a move in advocating the completion of the barracks? No. They now fancy that the time has arrived, and at the eleventh hour denounce the contemplated action of the federal government. The motive is patent to the dullest comprehension. The Colonist has evidently become the organ of a faction that intend to build up a rival city from the ruins of Victoria. Has not the Hon. JOHN ROBSON laid claim to the parentage of Vancouver? Has he not been denounced in our columns for his patriotic (?) conduct in giving contracts for school furniture to an outside dealer when we have furniture factories here? Does not his landed interests lie largely on the shores of Coal Harbor and English Bay? And what about Mr. CROW BAKER, M. P.? If the present Provincial Secretary and the Dominion Cabinet dared to speak out, they would advocate the removal of the provincial capital without a smile on their countenance. Victoria and her interests have been bartered off for thirty pieces of silver by the Judas Iscariots, represented by the Hon. JOHN ROBSON and Mr. CROW BAKER, and is now betrayed with a kiss through the columns of the Colonist.

A PAUPER IMMIGRATION LAW.

It is said that the action of the New South Wales Government, which, to secure the industrial vote, raised the anti-Chinese cry, was the main cause of the rejection by the Government of Pekin of the United States treaty. It has also transpired that the Chinese Government care very little whether their subjects are admitted into the Colonies or not. They care a great deal, however, for their dignity as the oldest of civilized people, and desire to be treated not as the least favored of nations; they demand, and with cause, that if their subjects are to be excluded, it must not be as Chinamen but in virtue of some general disqualification, which might apply to the subjects of other nations. Nearly all the Chinese emigrants take passage from Hongkong, which being a British colony, would enable the Imperial authorities, with the cooperation of the several colonial governments, to settle the vexed question without the interference of the Chinese authorities. The colonies can enact a prohibitory law against pauper immigration, and a restriction act against indiscriminate emigration by the legislative council of Hongkong, would become a real "Chinese wall" against the stream of undesirable immigrants. Perhaps in no other colony is the baneful effect more perceptable than in this Province, where our sparce population fails to hide up the evils of the influence on our community, religiously, socially and morally. The Australians have taken the bull by the horns and they boycott them on land and sea, and even will not allow the American vessels which carry their mails from San Francisco, to employ Chinese stokers. Victoria would be a bright, more prosperous and a more moral city were white men and women occupying the places of the Chinese. Our legislature might, as an experiment, enact a pauper immigration law. This is in the interest of our workingmen and may not be entertained till such time as they have a proper representation in the government of the country.

It is said that we have a population in Victoria alone of some 2000 workingmen of Chinese race. What, let any thinker ask himself, would be the difference were those 2000 of our own race? That number of white workingmen would mean a population of at least 8000 souls. It would mean that the earnings of these men would be spent in our midst to the advantage of our merchants and tradesmen and the permanent development and improvement of our city.

DOMINION RULE.

The policy that the Dominion Government is pursuing towards Victoria is the same that is creating an annexation sentiment throughout the eastern portion of this country. It is the same that drove Manitoba only a few months ago to the verge of insurrection and has made it safe for leading public men in the east to declare openly for annexation. What effect can the policy have here? Does SIR JOHN, Mr. BOWELL and the rest of them imagine they can enter into a conspiracy to ravish and destroy old and settled communities without making Conservative rule noxious, hateful and abominable?

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Returns received by Bradstreet's commercial agency show that the number of failures in the Dominion during the first three-quarters of 1888 was 1,274 compared with 946 in the same period of 1887. This increase of about thirty per cent. in failures is rather startling. The liabilities of those who failed in 1888 amounted to $12,441,839 against $11,083,466 last year.

The Mail is certainly ingenious in some of its arguments. Here is one: "Those economists who tell us we can profitably become a self contained people should look at Prince Edward Island. Why is it that the people of that island clamor for a daily communication throughout the winter with the outside world? Are they ignorant of the benefits of isolation, or do they think that isolation and restriction are frauds?"

A correspondent writing from New South Wales' under date of the 4th ult, states that the country has been burnt up for three years past in the vicinity of Moss Vale. No, rain to speak of, has fallen and there was at date of writing no sign of rain. Summer was only just commencing. Our correspondent, who was a pioneer of this city in 1858, says he wishes he was back on this island. He says that the last three years have ruined thousands who were formerly in easy circumstances. The value of property has depreciated so that not half a section is worth what it was three years ago. Mining is all the rage, but great swindles have been successfully carried out and are still going on. The country is boomed beyond its limits.

Donald Truth knows how it is worked. It says: "The legislative assembly at its last session made an appropriation to sink test wells for irrigating purposes. A point in the valley of the Thompson below Kamloops was selected at which to make the test. The job was given to a Victoria expert, who will probably require another appropriation before he gets a good ready, and still another before water is struck. The man in charge of the work is undoubtedly an expert, but the tools he uses are not such as an expert would use if he meant business. But it does not matter. While the surplus in the British Columbia treasury is not quite so large as that in the treasury of the United States, it is sufficiently large to keep a few political mendicants from starving."

It is said that Mr. S. Duck will remain in the service of the city, and will not resign his seat in the House. There is no law to compel him to do so, and it is not probable that the city alderman would bother their heads about the matter. So long as he performed his work they could not very well complain. The absence of Mr. Duck from the House for a few hours every day would not, perhaps, matter very much. He always voted solid with the government, which under the new order of things would have to be content with a majority of one less than formerly. There is no statutory prohibition against the construction of an automaton to occupy Mr. D.'s seat during his temporary absence, which could be arranged to "hold up its hand" when the President of the Council pulled a string, or wink its right eye in response to Mr. Speaker Pooley's curt request to know "how the honorable gentleman from Victoria votes." Mr. Speaker never forgets the etiquette of his position, and would be certain to propound the customary query even though he were aware that he was addressing a wooden man.

"The Madonna at the Tub," of whom Miss Phelps writes, was a genuine specimen of health and happiness, she doubtless heeded the warnings of her predecessors, and understood and appreciated the matchless qualities of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which relieves and cures so many ailments peculiar to the sex. As a powerful, invigorating tonic, it imparts strength to the whole system, and to the womb and its appendages, in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, "Favorite Prescription" is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

For Constipation, Sick or Bilious Headache, use Dr. Pierce's Pellets, or Anti-bilious Granules. Purely Vegetable. One a dose. wed-sat.

SCHOOL TRUSTEE MEETING.

Business Transacted—Attendance—Vacancy in the Board.

The monthly meeting of the Board of School Trustees was held in the City Hall last night. Present: Trustees Hayward, Harris, Heisterman and Wolfenden.

A letter from Joseph Heywood was read regarding the conduct of certain school children attending the public school. The boys were in the habit of tearing down fences and destroying valuable shade trees.

The Secretary was instructed to communicate with the principals of the schools requesting them to warn the scholars and make examples of those guilty of misconduct.

A motion was carried recommending that an increase of $10 per month be granted the janitor, Mr. Huxtable.

The contract for supplying coal to the public schools was awarded to the Victoria Coal, Wood and Lumber Company.

The Secretary's report for the month of September was read. The average daily attendance was 1007.22, an average of 47.96 to each teacher. The attendance was much higher than ever before. One teacher was reported absent through illness.

It was decided to communicate with Trustee J. B. Ferguson to secure his resignation from the Board. This step was taken on account of Mr. Ferguson's absence from Victoria.

An offensive drain, which is endangering the health of the school children, was referred to by Trustee Wolfenden.

Trustee Heisterman's motion, to communicate with the Government requesting a donation to be expended in planting shade trees around the school grounds, was carried.

The Board then adjourned.

THE DEFENCE QUESTION.

A Vancouver Man Makes Some Sensible Suggestions.

Capt. R. E. Green has written a sensible letter to the News-Advertiser, in which he points out to the people of Vancouver that it is in their interest that the Island of Vancouver should be well fortified. The effect of fortifying Vancouver alone, he suggests, "would be like putting a chain and padlock round the neck of a valuable horse and fastening him in his stable whilst the doors were left wide open in a place where horse-thieves were numerous. What would be the consequence? Probably the thieves if unable to get the horse out would injure him to such an extent as to make him worthless to his owners for future use, just out of spite because they could not steal him. No, sir, nature has plainly shown us where our defences should be. By her the Island of Vancouver, with her almost impassable ridges, has been thrown across the entrance to Burrard Inlet like an enormous earthwork. All that has to be done is to protect the flanks of this rampart by fortifications erected at Port San Juan on the south and Seymour Narrows and Swanee Pass on the north, and not only the railway terminus but our national coal supply, Nanaimo (which Mr. Lynn has entirely forgotten), could only be got at through mountain passes across the Island almost as impregnable to a foe as the far-famed Kuyber Pass.

At Port San Juan the distance across the Straits is only 9 miles (not 15 as stated by your correspondent) whilst at Seymour Narrows and Swanee Pass the distance across is less than that at the entrance to this harbor. Would it not be wise and preferable to fortify these places and protect our coal supply and our naval dockyard at Esquimalt with all its magazines, naval stores and arsenal (a fait accompli of which Mr. L. is apparently ignorant) than to fortify an inland harbor like Burrard Inlet, leaving our coal and naval supplies to take their chance and thereby place our defenders at their wits' end to provide the wherewithal to make our fortifications in embryo of the most utility? With the Gulf of Georgia locked up as it should be by the fortifications I propose, Burrard Inlet would have nothing to fear in time of war, not even the boom of the distant random gun of the enemy would be heard."

The Salvation Army.

The following readings of the moral barometer are taken from the latest issue of the War Cry:

VICTORIA.—Capt. Harris. We are still on the path, and although the devil seems to have the people rocked to sleep in their respectability and morality, we believe God is wakening them up. He is taking in hand this sin-neglected city with all its open and secret iniquity.

VANCOUVER.—Capt. Lynes. War is still raging, and the Vancouver corps have just closed a week of victory. Monday night a "God-glorifying" and "devil-defeating" time. Recaptured two prisoners, and succeeded in taking two from the enemy's ranks, although they had not gone far in sin nor formed the terrible habits of it. Tuesday night, grand muster of old weather-beaten veterans and young recruits. Examination of arms. All defects and weak parts were taken into the great armory of God and replaced for the coming onset. Wednesday night, after a lengthy hand-to-hand fight with the devil, we captured another prisoner. Thursday night, opened fire on the enemy again; poured in some red-hot Gospel shots, wounding many.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

The Whitechapel Murders—The Currency Commission.

THE LATE SIR A. MUSGRAVE'S SUCCESSOR.

London, Oct. 9—The death of Sir A. Musgrave, Governor of Queensland, has placed the Government in an embarrassing position with regard to the appointment of his successor. The place would gladly given to either Lord Randolph Churchill or Henry Chaplin, both of whom are men to be placed by the Government rather than opposed, but there are also other aspirants whose claims upon the party for official preferment cannot be safely ignored. The office is worth £5000 a year, and as Mr. Chaplin is known to be pecuniarily embarrassed, he may possibly prefer gilded exile far away from his creditors to the annoyance which his remaining in London would entail, and accept the position if it is offered to him.

A WELSH PARTY.

John Morley had intended to leave Newton, Wales, after his speech last evening, but remained over to-day in order to mediate in the quibbles which were the prominent feature of the liberal convention held there to-day. His efforts were only partially successful, however, as the radical element in the convention secured the passage of motions committing the conference to the support of Welsh autonomy, church and land reforms, and the creation of a Welsh parliamentary party on the lines of the national party in Ireland.

THE SOULESS CORPORATION.

Zanzibar natives have informed British agents that their quarrel with the Germans is due to the unnecessary interference on the part of the latter with native customs. Their hostility is directed against the German Africa Company alone, and the German government is held in the highest respect.

BLOODHOUNDS AS DETECTIVES.

In defence to the general desire that bloodhounds be used in the search of the Whitechapel murderer, the police have purchased several of these animals and put them in training. They are not stationed at Whitechapel district, however, but are located in stalls in out of the way places, so that nobody will know from what quarter to expect them. At the Whitechapel inquest to-day, several surgeons deposed that the body found in Whitehall is that of a woman of unusually fine appearance, and evidently of good social standing.

FLED TO SCOTLAND.

A Cannneryman Sells Out and Skips With the Proceeds.

Astoria, Oct. 9—Last summer Samuel McKenzie, Arndt & Perchen, Joseph Watson, Allen & Lewis, and one or two others formed the Carter Bay Packing Co., to operate a salmon cannery at Carter Bay, Alaska, 40 miles from Tongas Narrows, where McKenzie was employed by A. W. Berry as foreman. All the other partners advanced McKenzie money, and preparations were made to erect a cannery and go into business on an extensive scale with Astoria money next season. Meantime McKenzie this season put up 3000 barrels of salted salmon and sold them for $3 a barrel, though the ruling rate was $14. He came down this trip of the Idaho, which arrived here to-day. When he reached Victoria McKenzie told the steward of the Idaho he had made a strike and was going back to Scotland. He bought a ticket over the Canadian Pacific for Montreal. He sold the whole business to Smith & McCauley for $11,500.

CLOTH PEDDLERS.

To the Editor of the Times:

Sir,—The aid of the press is respectfully requested to warn the public against liars and deceivers, such as a man who hired a two-horse wagon from Dalby's livery stables, Victoria, and drove through Cowichan district on the 11th September, and who called at my house and represented himself as one of fifty other agents for a large woolen manufactory, Manchester, England, and that we could buy goods from him at one-half or one third the price in the stores in this province. By misrepresentation and falsehood he induced me to take a lot of his goods at $150, for which he obtained from me a cheque for $28 and a promissory note to pay him, said A. D. Wright, or Bearer $122 at the express office, Victoria, B. C., which note I have warned the express offices and banks of Victoria that I will not pay, because the said A. D. Wright, by false pretences and lies, pre-conceived, wilfully and designedly deceived me, which I can, by witnesses, prove. He stated that three tailors would follow in three weeks and make the cloth into suits at $5.00 per suit, and their board. I here state that if the said A. D. Wright by returning me the $28 and promissory note for $122, signed Jas. Dougan and Ann. Dougan, I shall return to him the goods he left at my house, near Cobble Hill, E. & N. Ry. station, on Sept. 11th 1888. I understand the man, referred to above, sold without a license. Can the authorities not punish such deceivers and protect honest people from being victimized. JAS. DOUGAN.

CITY AND PROVINCE.

—A lady writes: "I was enabled to remove the corns, root and branch, by the use of Holloway's Corn Cure." Others who have tried it have the same experience.

—Worms derange the whole system. Mother Graves' Worm exterminator deranges worms, and gives rest to the sufferer. It only costs twenty-five cents to try it and be convinced.

—What Toronto's well known Good Samaritan says: "I have been troubled with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint for over 20 years, and I have tried many remedies, but never found an article that has done me as much good as Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure."—CLARA E. PORTER. *

—All beds seem hard to the rheumatic. Then harken ye peevish sufferers! Apply Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil to your aching joints and muscles. Rely on it that you will experience speedy relief. Such, at least, is the testimony of those who have used it. The remedy is likewise successfully resorted to for throat and lung diseases, sprains, bruises, etc. *

—Faces as yellow as that of the "Heathen Chinee," in consequence of bile in the blood, grow fair and wholesome-looking again when Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and great blood purifier is used to relax constipated bowels and expel the billious poison from the circulation. Rheumatic and blood impurities are also driven out by it, digestion restored, and the system benefited in every way by its use. *

—Gilbert Laird, St. Margaret's Hope, Orkney, Scotland, writes:—"I am requested by several friends to order another parcel of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. The last lot I got from you having been tested in several cases of Rheumatism, has given relief when doctors' medicines have failed to have any effect. The excellent qualities of this medicine should be made known, that the millions of sufferers throughout the world may benefit by its providential discovery." *

A Warning.

The modes of death's approach are various, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from diseases of the throat and lungs than any other. It is probable that everyone, without exception, receives vast numbers of tubercle germs into the system and when these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, at first slowly and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat and if allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the head, causing catarrh. Now all this is dangerous and if allowed to proceed will in time cause death. At the onset you must act with promptness; allowing a cold to go without attention is dangerous and may lose you your life. As soon as you feel that something is wrong with your throat, lungs or nostrils, obtain a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. It will give you immediate relief. *

FOREST FAIR.

Formally Opened by Mrs Nelson—C Battery Band in Attendance.

Shortly after 7 o'clock last night the Forest Fair, in aid of the funds of St. John's Church, was formally opened in Philharmonic Hall, by Mrs. Nelson. On account of the inclement weather, the attendance was not large. The band belonging to C Battery, under their able leader, Bandmaster Agins, was in attendance and discoursed several fine selections. The large hall was tastefully decorated, whilst the ladies were attired in costumes which were pleasing and in keeping with the surroundings. The main feature on entering the hall was the immense wedding cake, which was in charge of a young lady dress in gypsy costume. It is impossible to give a description of the beautiful picture presented on entering the building, but a visit to the Philharmonic Hall will well repay those wishing to spend a pleasant evening. The following ladies of St John's Church have charge of the different booths: Mrs Hammond, Mrs Blaiklock, Mrs Saunders, Misses Kent, Fisher, Grieves, Harvey, Jenns, Jones, Finlaison, Graham, Powell, Eagen, Gowen, Renwick, Kettle, Mrs Wilson, Mrs Rhodes, Mrs Renwick and Mrs Byrn.

The Light Fantastic.

The dance given by the Society for the Investigation of Spiritualism in Harmony Hall last evening was largely attended and a very pleasant time was spent by all present. Prof. Sharpe's excellent orchestra supplied the music. Supper was served in the diningroom at the rear of the hall about midnight, some time after which the company broke up at a seasonable hour.

Marine Notes.

The Princess Louise came out of the Esquimalt dry dock yesterday.

War Vessel Missing.

Fears are entertained for the safety of H. M. S. Wrangler which left Halifax some time ago for Jamaica. The authorities think of sending out an expedition to hunt for her.

Contraband Chinaman.

Seven Chinese were captured at Point Wilson on Sunday morning in the act of being smuggled into the States from this province. They were taken across the Straits by white men in a sloop. Each had taken the precaution to provide themselves with a Canadian certificate of prior residence and they were accordingly returned here last evening.

Chicken Thief Shot.

The well known eagle belonging to Mr. R. Barr, of the Western Hotel, has been shot and killed by a Chinaman. It appears that John had been missing his chickens for some time past, so he laid wait for the thief. The latter was caught yesterday making an early breakfast off one of John's chickens and so John filled him with buckshot. He then sold him to a barber on Johnson street where he can be seen in the window.

The Right Time.

Probably there is no period in life more important for the mental and moral training of youths than that between eight and seventeen years of age. If the spring-time of life is well employed, good results may be expected in after years. No better preparation can be afforded boys in this province than that which may be obtained at Corrig School, which is already largely patronized, and which a weekly increasing in number

Chinese Exclusion.

Things are getting into a muddle on the other side over the Chinese exclusion law. The American tug Pioneer, for instance, was in Canadian waters when the bill became law, and when she returned the authorities would not allow the Chinese cook to re-enter the country. The captain had to guarantee that the Chinaman would be produced when wanted before he was allowed to proceed to business. There are thirty-two customs officials employed at Port Townsend and this force is claimed to be insufficient to watch opium and Chinese smugglers.

Prosecution or Persecution?

A writ was served upon the manager of the TIMES, this afternoon, at the instance of Robert Dunsmuir, claiming $5,000 damages for libel, and asking for an injunction. The particulars upon which a libel is claimed were not supplied, and consequently we are in ignorance of what we are to be charged with having published which can reasonably be construed as libelous. In the meantime the public will have to determine for themselves whether this is prosecution or persecution.

A Noble Work.

The air is full of reforms, not alone in the civic halls, but in less talked of spheres of the community. The latest movement is the redemption of white fallen women by the ladies of the Methodist congregation. The task is difficult, but the ladies are persevering. As an instance, the following will show what the noble workers for good have to meet with: "And so you desire to reform me? Alas! that is impossible; and as for the women of my class, I may as well tell you that if you expect to succeed in your mission you have undertaken a most stupendous work. There is, however, one means by which you may succeed, and the only one. Shall I tell you? It is, first, reform the men."

THE CITY CLERK.

The Charges Against J. D. Robinson—Again Before the Magistrate.

At 11 o'clock this morning the remand cases against J. D. Robinson for alleged embezzlement and being an accessory after the fact in the defalcations of the late City Treasurer were called in the police court.

His Honor said the information was not right. The indictment charges the defendant with being an accessory after the fact, which is not an offence. The defendant must counsel, harbor or assist the principal and the defendant cannot be indicted as an accessory.

Mr. Davie accordingly amended the information to make it read that defendant counseled, harbored and assisted in the defalcations of Thomas Russell.

J. C. Bales said—On Nov. 23, 1882, there is entered in the cash book $437 50, as received from R Finlayson; receipt shows that R. Finlayson paid $537.50 on Nov. 23, 1882; the stub appears to have gone through the hands of the Auditor. Receipt No. 306 shows the sum of $36 paid on December 24th, by Ellen Liddell; can find no account of this amount in the cash book. On January 17th there is a wrong entry. Regarding the wrong cast on page 327, the figures in the book were, I think, altered since the audit from $50 to $150. There are two other instances; on page 331 it was cast up at $4,120.45; at present it shows $3,120.45; in one place the figure 3 was placed before 45, making it read $345; the stub produced has not been altered. There are two casts in the water works books, which were altered; on Jan. 17th, 1881, there is an entry of $5 received for a trades license from Lum Chung; the receipt is numbered 2045; witness checked that whilst he was auditor for the city; at that time it appeared as $5 in the cash book; the stub of the receipt also showed it to be $5; the stub shows now that a 2 was put before the 5 and an 0 after the 5 making the amount received $250. Witness was sure the figures were altered after he was discharged; have never seen the book since that time until the special audit was made.

Cross-examined by Mr. Mills—I was auditor for the city about four years prior to 1881; I was discharged in February, 1881; I was consulted by the Council regarding the special audit, and suggested that the audit be made from January, 1881, to December, 1787; my suggestion was adopted by the Council. Mr. Robinson succeeded me as auditor; I audited the books at the beginning of each month; I believe Mr. Robinson's salary was $150 per year; I audited less than one month before Mr. Robinson took office. Mr. Mills asked for an adjournment of the case for a week. No objection was raised by the prosecution and the case was postponed. Defendant was allowed out on his own recognizance.

OUR TOWN MAJOR.

An Old-timer's Talk About Politics and City By-laws.

Feeling the want of a little social comfort, owing to the wet weather, the Major paid a visit to a well known snuggery where the inward and outward comforts are well catered for. His friend, the old-timer, was there. "Hello, Major," was the greeting, "if they saw any green on your coat you had none in your eye, any way, and I must say that shillelah of your's hits; you handle it with a vengeance. Not worth talking about, you say? No, and they'd fall into utter oblivion if you wouldn,t notice them.

"What do I think about the great moral by-law. Well, it to is an election dodge. If they want to become outwardly moral like Toronto and other eastern cities, they must wade in a little deeper. Some of the Aldermen were for closing the saloons, barber shops and places of amusement. One wanted Mr. Starr's shop closed up. The words were indicative of the mind. Why did not some of them, and they know all about it, want to close up the cock-pits, if it were only on Sunday. Taken altogether they are a moral lot, and no mistake. The people see through their dodge. The idea of men posing as moralists and signing the Menzies petition at the same time!"

"Alderman Harris, as you say very properly, laid the sewer question over for mature consideration. It was a good move, and will give us something to talk about for the winter months. He has the intention to carry them out, if he will only adopt a good plan. We have been told 'ere now that we are a dirty lot. Well, there is no use in denying, we are. Our sanitary arrangements are a lasting disgrace. So are a good many more things."

"I was out to 'Squimalt to day and saw Jumbo at work. The people of West Victoria are very thankful to you and THE TIMES for compelling the 'Senator' to look after his constituency; but I fancy from the underground grumblings I've heard on this and other subjects that the political volcano of that 'burgh' will burst forth and the Senator and the home-made lawyer will be overwhelmed, swallowed up in the vortex of the whirlpool and never will again come to the political surface."

"We may, if your city council do their duty to the ratepayers, have an election here before long. It is impossible for the city treasurer to fill both offices. Then you'll see how the "boodle" will fly around."

"Victoria is going down sure pop," said the old-timer with a sigh. "Our politicians neglect us; our monied men and property-holders lend all their aid, power and influence to build up a rival and refuse to countenance the smallest scheme calculated to improve or advance the interests of the city. Even your press endeavors to sink the moral tone of beautiful Victoria, not only in the eyes of its citizens but also in those of our eastern fellow-citizens. I'll see you again, Major; good night. I'm so indignant that I can't say any more now; good night." The old-timer re-lit his pipe and buttoning up his coat sought consolation for an outraged mind in the raging tempest without. The incident made deep impressions on the mind of THE TOWN MAJOR.

FIRE LAST NIGHT.

A House on Superior Street Fired by an Incendiary.

At 10:20 o'clock last night a telephone message was received at the Deluge Engine House that a residence was burning on Bird Cage Walk, James Bay. In a few seconds one of the steam engines was on its way to the fire followed by the hose carts and hook and ladder truck. On arriving at Superior street the firemen saw smoke issuing from a house owned by Peter Lester and rented to M. Powers. The fire was first discovered by two young men named Simpson and McCannan. Mr. W. H. Dorman, who lives opposite, was called and kept the fire in check with a garden hose until the firemen arrived. After putting out the fire in the bedroom, a search was instituted and another fire discovered in an adjoining room. The fire in this room was in a small cupboard and was smouldering until the door was opened when it burst into a blaze. In another corner of the room a small closet piled with papers, saturated with coal oil, was found. On a table in the kitchen a coal oil tin was seen with a quantity spilled over the table. In the bedroom, where the fire was first discovered, a closet was opened and a quantity of kindling wood and paper was found piled up ready for the incendiary's match. Evidence was found that the house was occupied by some one a short time before the fire. Two empty bird cages were found in the dining room. A search of the back premises was made by Chief Engineer Deasy, officers Abel and Lavin. In a stable, about 100 feet from the house, they found a lot or wearing apparel, newly washed linen and numerous household articles, including a box of valuable books. Amongst the articles found in the upper story of the stable were numerous articles left with Mrs. Powers by a neighbor for safe keeping. Mrs. Powers arrived at her residence at 11 o'clock and said she left the house at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. There was no fire in the house and everything was locked up. She was residing at a friend's house during her husband's absence at Whatcom, and intended to leave for that place at the end of the week. The lady said she left $200 in bank notes under a trunk in the bed room. This particular trunk was burned and a quantity of charred paper was found beneath it. The fire was started with the determination to burn the house down, with everything in it, and it was a most fortunate circumstance that Mrs. Powers was away at the time because there is a great probability that she would have been either burned to death or suffocated by the dense smoke with which the house was filled. The police are making efforts to capture the incendiary. An investigation will be held.

The furniture was insured in the British Columbia Insurance Company for $600. The damage done will not amount to more than $100. An inquest, to ascertain the origin, will be held at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

The Moody Services.

Arrangements have been fully completed for the seating of the skating rink. A competent architect examined the building yesterday and pronounced it perfectly safe. The entrance for the public will be on View street. The Island railway offers a round trip ticket from all its points for a fare one way from Friday until Monday. A meeting of the general committee to-morrow at 2 p. m. Mr. J. G. Brown has consented to lead the united choirs at the meetings and will be glad to meet the singers at the rink to-morrow evening at 7 o'clock sharp for a short rehearsal.

Spencer's Arcade.

Mr. D. Spencer's new advertisement will appear to-morrow. It is unintentionally overlooked until too late. It refers to a special display this week of all the newest styles in millinery, mantles, gossamers and the latest novelties in furs. You can go and buy, however, and read the ad. to-morrow.

FROM NEW WESTMINSTER.

A Boy Hurt—Athletic Club—Personal Items.

Special to THE TIMES.

New Westminster, Oct. 10—Yesterday afternoon while a number of small boys were playing around the gate in front of Herring's opera house, the fastenings of the gate by some means gave way and it fell, striking the eight-year-old son of James French, fracturing his thigh. A doctor was soon in attendance and the little patient, although suffering greatly, is getting along as well as can be expected.

An athletic club has been formed with a good membership and named the Olympian Club. The drill shed has been secured for a gymnasium and practices will be held twice a week.

Capt. Warsnop, who has been city editor of the Vancouver News-Advertiser for some time past, has retired from journalism, having accepted a position in H. M. customs at that port. E. E. Gosnell, of Chatham, Ont., takes his place on the Advertiser.

Opera To-Night.

The Juvenile Opera Company will appear to-night in "Olivette," of which a Portland exchange says: "Last night the Juvenile Opera Company made the walls of the New Park theatre resound with the sweet melodies of 'Olivette.' As usual, this ever popular opera drew its admirers, and the enthusiasm was unbounded. The close of the second act was a huge delight to the ear and eye. The blue, pink, scarlet and white of the various costumes the twinkling of the merry dancing feet, the clinking of the tamborines and the hazes of beautifully colored rays from the camera caused the curtain to go down amidst storms of applause, only to be raised again and again. The trio of young ladies, Cleveland, Berg and Martin, were in good voice and graced the scene as usual. Miss May Echert had only a small part, but played it very acceptably. Evan Gamble sang sweetly, and little Teddy 'bobbed up serenely.' Harry Wise, a new comer, as Captain de Merrimac, did most excellent work. The costumes are new and specially made for this tour, and there will be a full orchestra.

Accident.

Thomas Goad, a miner working in the No. 4 or new slope of the V. C. Co.'s South Field Mine, was burned on Monday by firing a small pocket of gas while at work driving the airway. He was taken to the Nanaimo Hospital, where Dr. Praeger, Colliery Surgeon, dressed his burns.

A Social Evening.

The members of the Young Men's Christian Association have an informal meeting at the rooms to-night. Some matters of business will come before them, reports will be read, refreshments served, and a general good time had.
